

Home

to

50,000

people,

5,000,000

salmon

and

thankfully

not

the

other

way

around.

Salmon have nourished the land, wildlife and communities along the Skeena for centuries. Even the local economy has benefited, to the tune of over $100 million every year. But our progress doesn't have to threaten their numbers. Together, let's welcome development that works for all who live here. Learn more at skeenawild.org.

